Mental health literacy is important! Whether you struggle with mental health challenges or not, it's important to know what you need to know, what can help, and what we need adults to understand.

What is Mental Health Literacy??
Understanding how to nurture and maintain good mental health. Understanding mental disorders, their symptoms, and their treatments. Decreasing Stigma. Understanding how to find and get help effectively.

Understanding mental health. Understanding mental disorders, their symptoms, and their treatments. Decreasing Stigma.

What your peers want you to know right now:

1. Emotions are normal & valid.
2. You matter & are not alone.
3. Our generation is facing unique challenges that adults may not understand.
4. Speak up for yourself & ask for what you need.

Making connections—connectivity with peers, friends and adults is like a life jacket, it keeps you afloat. Connections with others can also support your mental health.

The FLX Teens Are Alright Project
The FLX Teens Are Alright Project brought together a team of 15 teenagers who led the creation and development of these materials. Youth of different races, ethnicities and gender orientations made up the team, and were from the counties of Livingston, Monroe, Ontario, Wayne and Wyoming. The FLX Teens Are Alright initiative aims to improve mental health literacy for middle- and high-school aged youth in the Finger Lakes (FLX) Region of New York. The initiative was a partnership between Common Ground Health, Monroe County Library System, Pioneer Library System and the Rochester Regional Library Council. Together, youth worked with a team of graphic design professors and students from the Rochester Institute of Technology to design the resources. Funding for this initiative was provided by the Network of the National Library of Medicine. To learn more, visit: healthikids.org/flxteensarealright

Ask your librarian about support groups, clubs or organizations in your community you might be able to get involved with.

Know you’re not alone. Visit healthikids.org/flxteensarealright and check out our new “zine” called “FLX Teens Are Alright: Teens talk to teens about mental health”. Hear from teens in the Finger Lakes Region about what you need to know, what can help, and what we need adults to understand.
